We know that these are strange times for everyone. We are sorry we can't enjoy our great California weather with everyone at the Willow Glen 5K. While you are sheltering in place, Berliner Cohen, LLP thought you would enjoy learning some strange laws that have existed in California.

-  It is illegal for autonomous vehicles to drive over 60 miles per hour.
-  In San Francisco, it is not legal to carry bread, cakes, or pastries that are intended for human consumption in open baskets or exposed containers.
-  In Berkeley, it is illegal to whistle for a lost canary before 7 a.m.
-  Walking an elephant down Market Street in San Francisco is illegal, unless the elephant is on a leash.
-  It is illegal for persons to hunt game from a moving vehicle, unless the game they are hunting is a whale.
-  It is illegal for a woman to drive a vehicle in a house coat.
-  In Walnut, California, it is illegal to put rock or sand on your driveway.
-  In Fresno, California, park visitors cannot "annoy" lizards they encounter at the city park.
-  In Arcadia, California, peacocks have the right of way to cross the street, this includes crossing driveways.
-  In Burlingame, California, it is illegal for residents to spit anywhere, except on baseball diamonds.
-  In El Monte, California, it is illegal to own a pinball machine.
-  In Eureka, California, it is illegal for men with mustaches to kiss a woman.
-  It is illegal for animals to mate within 1,500 feet of a school, saloon or place of worship.
-  It is illegal for a Californian to ride their bicycle through a public swimming pool.
-  In Los Angeles, California, it is illegal to hunt moths under a street lamp.
-  In Norco, California, it is illegal to grow oleander flowers.
-  In Blythe, California, it is illegal to wear cowboy boots unless you own two or more cows.

We hope that all of your families are staying active. We look forward to seeing you next year at the Willow Glen 5K.
